

Classical Civilisation Curriculum Key Stage 4

Intent:

Classical Civilisation explores the ancient world through its culture and history. In doing so it gives students a deeper foundation in their own history and culture, much of which derives from the three centuries Britain spent as part of the Roman Empire and the immense influence on our own thinking of Greek philosophy, art and architecture. The study of the ancient world on any level can potentially help to define our own identities. Classical Civilisation builds who we are and by furthering our understanding of our past we better understand ourselves. Learning is the heart of our business and we work collaboratively to achieve shared goals, in support of Christ the King College's distinct Christian ethos.

Curriculum Outline Key Stage 4

Year 10

- Myth and Religion (Greece): Gods, The Universal Hero, Temples
- Myth and Religion (Greece): Foundation Stories, Festivals, Symbols of Power
- Myth and Religion (Greece): Death, Burial and the Underworld
- Myth and Religion (Rome): Gods, The Universal Hero, Temples
- Myth and Religion (Rome): Foundation Stories, Festivals, Symbols of Power
- Myth and Religion (Rome): Death, Burial and the Underworld – comparison

Year 11

- War and Warfare: Sparta in the Fifth Century
- War and Warfare: Athens in the Fifth Century
- War and Warfare: Roman Military in the Imperial Period
- War and Warfare: Romans at War
- Revision