

Why you should study...

A-Level History

at Christ the King College

- Historical events are what has shaped society worldwide into what it is today. Our A Level History course has been designed to help you understand the value and significance of world events in the past.

- History A level is a facilitating subject and looked highly upon by all of the top universities.

- We offer free choice for students NEA topics giving them the opportunity to explore a period of History they feel passionate about.

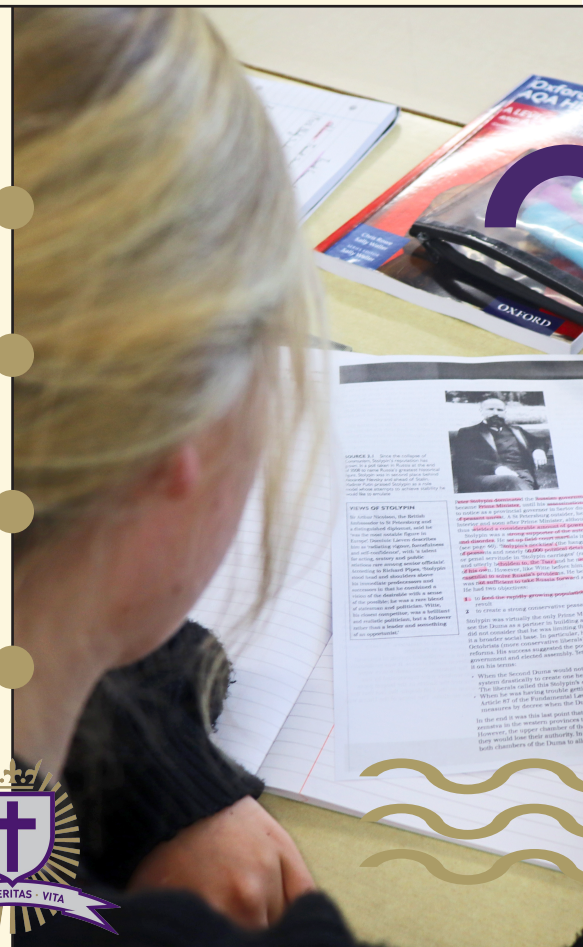

- Students are supported by experienced, passionate specialist teachers.

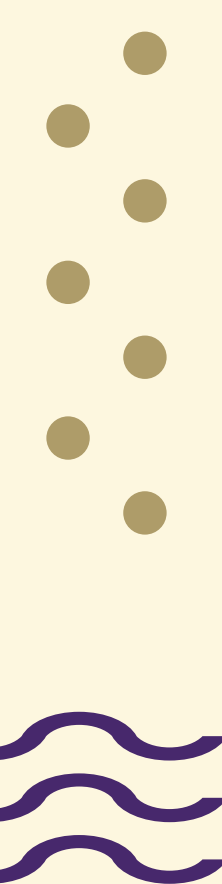

- Consistently strong outcomes for students

- Annual extracurricular opportunities to support the students studies.

Contact:

hollie.tillett@christthekingcollege.co.uk

This course has high demands on literacy skills so if you choose to study this course you will need to have a high grade at GCSE English Language and English Literature. A good grade at GCSE History is a definite advantage.

Subject Requirements

Course Structure

Component 1: The Tudors 1485 - 1603

Component 2: Revolution and Dictatorship in Russia 1917 - 1953

Component 3: Historical investigation

