

Why you should study...

A-Level Sociology

at Christ the King College

- Sociology helps you make sense of the world around you. Explore how society shapes our lives, from family structures to education, crime, and inequality.
- Sociology pushes you to question what you see in the media, challenge stereotypes, and think critically about complex social issues.
- Engage with fascinating topics from studying social class and gender to exploring how power and politics affect our everyday lives.
- Sociology equips you with key skills that are highly valued by universities and employers.

Contact:

anna.bagley@christthekingcollege.co.uk

Subject Requirements

Minimum GCSEs: Usually, 5 GCSEs at grades 4–9, including:
Grade 5 or above in GCSE English: Strong writing skills are essential for essays and evaluations.
Interest in Society and Current Affairs: A genuine curiosity about social issues, like inequality, Crime, and Education, will help you excel in the course.

Course Structure

Year 12

Education with Theory and Methods:

Explore the role of education in society and how sociologists conduct research.

Topics in Sociology including Culture & Identity

Year 13

Crime and Deviance with Theory and Methods: Understand the causes of crime and the methods used to study society. Topics in Sociology including Media Research Methods and Sociological Theory: Learn the tools sociologists use to study social issues and debates.

